ITX develops Sales & Use Tax System for the City of Pueblo, Colorado

Fort Collins, Colorado, June 1, 2006 – Information Technology Experts, Inc. (ITX) today announced that the City of Pueblo, Colorado has hired ITX to develop their new Sales & Use Tax system. The custom Web-based system will efficiently manage the collection of sales tax and businesses licenses – resulting in time and money savings and better reporting capabilities.

“This pilot project is a collaborative effort between the city and ITX. Our strategy is to do a great job implementing the system in Pueblo then migrate it to other cities seeking to shed outdated systems and replace them with efficient Web-based applications,” said Rollie Stokes, ITX Program Manager for Software Operations.

About ITX
